

Association for Rescue at Sea, Inc.

CWO4 Brandon S. Brewer, USCG (Ret.)
Biography

Brandon is a crisis communications consultant and retired military public information officer. During his 22-year career in the U.S. Coast Guard, he specialized in environmental risk communication, emergency response operations and information dissemination. He has deployed worldwide to natural and man-made disasters to communicate health and safety information to the public via media and community relations, visual imagery and the written word.

During tours of duty in Virginia, Louisiana, North Carolina and New York, he relayed important information to the general boating public and professional mariners during high-risk weather events and was a media and community liaison during numerous Coast Guard and joint-agency search and rescue cases. He has also developed or contributed to dozens of awareness campaigns to educate recreational boaters and professional mariners on maritime safety issues.

He studied journalism and communications at the Defense Information School and Old Dominion University. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Liberal Studies (business management / communications focus) from Excelsior College and a Bachelor of Arts degree in philosophy from Old Dominion University.

He is Partner and Vice President of Client Relations at Shawn Douglas Crisis Communication and resides with his family in Norfolk, Virginia
